BIO

The beginning.

Raf Marchesini, international DJ and Producer, was born in Verona (Italy) where he began his long and solid musical career at a very young age. Passionate about music since childhood, he begins to make himself known in the early 90s thanks to successful private parties that soon took him there to perform in the best clubs of his city and Lake Garda: Alterego, Atrium, ICS, Ipnosis, Excalibur, Berfis, Biblò, Firmus, are just some of the venues where he becomes Resident DJ or Regular Guest.

Feeling the need to express himself also as a Producer, in 1997 Raf made his debut in the studios of Media Records, the legendary label of Gianfranco Bortolotti. Among his first releases stands out Brahama "Future Love", made with Paolo Sandrini and Mauro Picotto, who has climbed numerous European charts and was featured on the Legendary Rockets' Greatest Hits. In 2000 he began to collaborate with various recording studios producing singles for artists such as Carolina Marquez, Tony Di Bart, Mario Più, Ozz, Hard-In-Tango and many more.

The achievements.

In 2004 Raf Marchesini began an important collaboration with Saifam, label with which he achieved international successes in the following years such as "Ibiza", "Fiesta Loca", "Boys and Girls" and "Beautiful Life".

In 2009 he inaugurated his own recording studio with a long series of hits: from "Faraò" to "Babylon", to the official remixes for "Ma Cherie" by DJ Antoine, "Like I Love You" by R.I.O. and "Stand Up" by Electroluv. He also officially remixes artists such as Michelle Weeks, Datura, Pooh, Big Ali, Alexandra Stan, Cristian Marchi, Federico Franchi and many others.

Strong of the great support from the radios and the fans, Raf Marchesini's career is a continuous crescendo: a long series of tours as Guest DJ see him as protagonist in clubs from all over Italy and Europe, reaching as far as the Far East.

EXPERIENCE
